

Moms are Looking for Food in the Daytime!

From a licensed wildlife rehabber:

Their mother was shot today.

She was doing a fantastic job and should have been allowed to continue but because she was standing at the edge of someone's yard in the daytime she was executed!

Remember folks, wildlife of all kind are seen in the daytime frequently this time of year because they are hungry! In the wild mom's eyes it's safer to leave their young in the day because fewer predators are out, what they don't realize is the worst predator of all is waiting.

Please be kind to animals.

Be a person that doesn't cause suffering to anything that feels pain.
